

How to Become a Member

The Royal Commonwealth Society
Vancouver Island Branch

Who Can Join

Membership is open to any citizen of Commonwealth member nations who undertakes to support the objectives set out in the Charter of the Society. The Society is non-political and non-sectarian.

Why Join

The Society supports the Commonwealth, which is a unique institution with enormous potential for the good of humankind. Its present diversity enables it to make a special contribution to the modern world. Almost every race and religion, every type of national economy, many styles of government, and many political systems are represented among the over 50 countries that constitute today's Commonwealth of well over one billion people.

Membership

The membership fee for an individual member is $40.00, for a couple $60.00, for a student $15.00, there is also a rate for members living outside a 50 km radius, which is for individuals $ 35.00, couple $50.00. As the branch has charitable status, membership fees are tax deductible.

The membership form is available for download. Click here to download RCS Vancouver Island Membership Form \(PDF\).

Interested individuals can also contact us directly by clicking on the "Contact Us" menu link.